Main Street Floral Keeps the Family Name Going

Main Street Floral as it was originally.

The Lawrence family is back at the Main Street Floral in Heber. In 1937, Joe and Mildred Lawrence opened the Lawrence Floral on South Main Street in Heber City. Joe and Mildred came to Heber from Tooele where his father Joseph W. Lawrence Sr. owned and operated the Lawrence Floral of Tooele. They raised their family of 4 boys and a girl at the present site of the Main Street Floral.

The Lawrence's operated the Floral until 1958 when they sold the business to Don Hicken, still of Heber, and moved to Mesa, Az., where they purchased another floral shop. Since that time, the Lawrence Floral, now Main Street Floral, has been owned by 3 individuals. Effective 1 May, the current owners, Wilfred and Hilda Trim of Calgary, Alberta have hired Laurel Quinn as Manager of Main Street Floral. With the help of the mother Jacklin Lawrence McGuire, granddaughter and daughter, respectively of Joe and Mildred Lawrence. Now, 47 years after they opened the flower shop, at 476 S. Main, the Joe Lawrence Family is again operating the business.

Library Bond Up for Vote May 15

HEBER CITY-Wasatch County Residents will have a chance to go to the polls on May 15 to vote on a bond election to determine whether the citizens of Wasatch County will construct a new library.

Wasatch County Commissioners have retained the help of Sowby and Berg, a firm which works on obtaining government grants, to investigate, and apply for grants to help with the county.

During their search, they have determined that the county would be able to purchase the property directly behind the county courthouse for the purpose of constructing a new library.

They also did a priliminary study on what the county library would need compared to the other librarys which serve areas of the same size.

With all this information obtained, they presented the ideas to the County Commissioners, who decided that they would use a bond election to build the new library, so they set a date for the election.

Sowby and Berg have been presenting their findings to residents throughout the valley, showing what the library needs would be.

A opposition group, which plainly are against the construction of a new library, also have voiced said that the flyer that was being passed around was not at all accurate.

The Utilities on the building will be less than the new building due to design and installation of new/modern heating and cooling practices.

He also explained that this tax increase on businesses would not break many, since on a hundred thousand dollar building the increase per year would only come to about $1.55

"If the county residents are desirous to have the additional services other than books then we should have this kind of library." said Berg.
